ogl Story

All these myths and tales, there's only one way to get the truth out there and we shall tell our truth.

For starters, there will be 8 completely different characters in total. Characters from the myths we all fantasize about the legitimacy behind it. Holders will be able to tell the character type and name in the characters traits. There will be weekly origin story updates that will be airdropped in the form of an Nft. Holders must have at least 3 different characters in their wallet to receive the weekly airdrop of the continuous MGB story series. Collect all 10 chapters and follow along this magnificent series that tell the tales of our characters in the form of a nft. Holders that aren't eligible for the airdrop will have the chance to print their story in the form of a nft for a small fee on our website when they manage to acquire three different characters in their wallet.

Why should you participate to collect these stories?

Collecting these stories will be very important! After the 10th installment of the MGB series is dropped, Holders will be able to retire all 10 stories that they have collected in exchange for an egg. All of this will be done through MGB official website, www.mythicgreekbeings.xyz. Each egg will be unique, what it hatches depends on the characters in each holder's wallet. Holders will also have the chance to receive a physical copy of the completed MGB origin story series.

Monthly Battles/Scavenger Hunts (Staking)

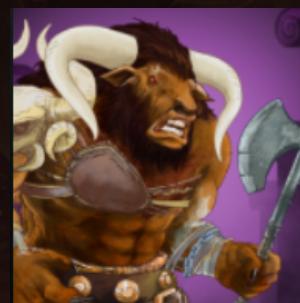

Holders will be given the opportunity to send the characters in their wallets off to battle or to just scavenge for treasure in distant locations each month. Holders should be cautious though, if they send their nft out to battle they can also lose money. A scavenger hunt is always the safest way. More information to come later. Whatever treasure the characters find on their journey is for the holder's reward. Treasures include but are not limited to; Nft, cryptocurrency, travel rewards, tickets to sporting events etc.

The longer the holders' characters are off on their journey, the better their odds of finding valuables to being back to their wallets.
